Don't Take it From Us

"Heartland Alliance tapped MMA a couple of years ago, initially as our insurance broker. Today, they're a critical business partner, not only for insurance but also for risk management and mitigation. The value added from Jon Trapp and his colleagues has been immeasurable - the impact of counsel, review and analyses have enormously advanced Heartland's risk management, insurance and corporate compliance systems over this period.

They are probably our best strategic business partners, with an exceptional commitment to customer service, timely response and full-scale support. The firm has been named one of the best employers so there's something special about a culture that produces results inside and out."
